

Belarus exports energy storage

Overview

Is Belarus a good energy source?

Most energy in Belarus is cheap fossil gas from Russia, and Belarus is a net energy importer. According to IEA, the energy import vastly exceeded the energy production in 2015, describing Belarus as one of the world's least energy sufficient countries in the world.

What is Belarus' energy policy?

Energy policy in Belarus focuses on providing reliable energy while reducing imports dependence. The government is contemplating attractive investment measures and fuel diversification to include more coal and renewables into the country's energy mix.

What is the energy sector in Belarus?

Belarus's energy sector is dominated by state-owned companies operating under supervision of the Ministry of Energy in electricity, gas and part of the heat sector, and under BelNefteKhim (Belarus State Concern for Oil and Chemistry) in the oil, refining and petrochemicals sector.

Why does Belarus need control over the energy sector?

The government believes that having control over the entire energy sector will guarantee a secure and stable energy supply. Because of its modest natural resources, Belarus relies on imports from Russia to meet most of its energy needs.
