

Democratic Congo Energy Storage Construction Project

Overview

Is access to electricity a roadblock to DRC's economic transformation?

Access to energy is one of the most significant roadblocks to DRC's economic transformation and job creation at scale. Only 21% of Congolese people have access to electricity, but this is set to change.

Why should DRC invest in Inga 3?

“The electricity generation potential at the Inga site is one of the largest in the world. The development of Inga 3's hydropower will be transformative for DRC. By increasing access to clean, renewable and affordable energy for Congolese households and industries, it will serve as a motor for inclusive growth and jobs.

What is DRC's national energy compact?

Under DRC's National Energy Compact, aligned with the Africa-wide Mission 300 initiative, the government is embarking on a range of investments and reforms designed to increase power generation, attract private sector investors and improve the performance of the national energy utility, with the goal of lifting electricity access to 62% by 2030.
