

Differences between solar panels and batteries

Overview

What is the difference between solar panels and batteries?

Solar panels require sufficient roof space with minimal shading to maximise their efficiency, whilst batteries need a dedicated area with proper ventilation and cool conditions. Read up on how big storage batteries are here. More batteries or more solar panels?

Do solar panels need more batteries?

If you're already generating large amounts of energy from your solar array with the majority being sent to the grid, more batteries will help your own energy efficiency and reduce your personal energy waste. Solar panels have a longer lifespan (25-30 years) compared to batteries (10-15 years).

How do you compare solar batteries?

There are many ways to compare solar batteries. Here are a few key metrics to keep in mind: A battery's capacity is the total amount of electricity it can store measured in kilowatt-hours (kWh). A battery's power tells you the amount of electricity that it can deliver at one point in time measured in kilowatts (kW).

Should I add more solar panels to my battery?

If you have a large battery but are not filling it up regularly with solar energy, adding more PV panels is more advisable to maximise the battery's potential. This means you'll be making the most of your battery's storage capacity and not relying too heavily on the grid to charge it.
