

High-efficiency discount for folding containers used in wastewater treatment plants

Overview

What is containerized mobile wastewater treatment plant?

Containerized mobile wastewater treatment plant is the name given to the systems that work with the plug and play principle by mounting all the equipment in the factory in standard iso containers or specially produced containers.

What is a containerized wastewater treatment system?

Designed with maximum efficiency in mind, these systems are fully equipped with the needed with controls and are ready to treat municipal wastewater. Ideal for man-camps, remote locations, emergency or temporary treatment, these containerized systems deliver a flexible approach to wastewater treatment.

Do wastewater treatment plants improve environmental sustainability?

This paper explores the significant role of Wastewater Treatment Plants (WWTPs) in achieving environmental sustainability, with a particular focus on enhancing energy efficiency, resource recovery, and water reuse. WWTPs are crucial for removing pollutants and recovering resources from wastewater, thereby protecting public health and biodiversity.

How much energy does a containerized wastewater treatment plant use?

No planning or buildings are required to operate a containerized wastewater treatment plant - the plant simply needs to be placed on a solid base. This saves costs in advance, and the system is also highly efficient during operation: a 20-foot container only needs 13 kWh/d. Container.One, Container.One+, Container.Pro and Container.Xtra.
