How long does it take for solar panels to pay off?

Below, we explore how these variables interact and what steps you can take to accelerate your return on investment. Most solar panels pay off in seven to 12 years. Geographic location, government incentives and your household's electricity usage impact how quickly your solar investment will break even.

How long do solar panels last?

Most solar panels pay off in seven to 12 years. Geographic location, government incentives and your household's electricity usage impact how quickly your solar investment will break even. Maximize your solar panel savings by choosing the right installer, optimizing panel placement and improving your home's energy efficiency.

How long does a multicrystalline solar energy payback last?

Based on a solar-grade feedstock, Japanese researchers Kato et al. calculated a multicrystalline payback of about 2 years (adjusted for the U.S. solar resource). Palz and Zibetta also calculated an energy payback of about 2 years for current multicrystalline-silicon PV.

Can PV pay back its energy investment?

With energy paybacks of 1 to 4 years and assumed life expectancies of 30 years, 87% to 97% of the energy that PV systems generate won't be plagued by pollution, green-house gases, and depletion of resources. Based on models and real data, the idea that PV cannot pay back its energy investment is simply a myth.
