Overview

---

What is an explosion proof solar panel?

An explosion proof solar panel is a crucial component in solar-powered systems. This 150-watt solar panel, operating on 12V (nominal) with a module efficiency rate of 14.6 percent, is designed to be safe for use in hazardous environments. At maximum power, the unit offers 18.1V and a current of 8.3A, with a Class C application class and a 20A maximum fuse rating.

Are ATEX solar panels explosion-proof?

Enhanced Safety Features: Standard panels do not need to be explosion-proof, meaning they lack safety features of ATEX and IECEx-certified panels. For instance, while a typical solar panel might house its electrical connections in standard junction boxes, ATEX panels use explosion-proof junction boxes.

What is a hazardous location solar panel?

A hazardous location solar panel is a solar panel designed for use in hazardous environments. This specific model comes with a sturdy J-type junction box with accessible terminals for connections to other components of the solar-powered system.
