

Investment in 20-foot photovoltaic containers for mining

Overview

Should PV systems be integrated with abandoned land in open-pit mines?

In this context, integrating PV systems with abandoned land in open-pit mines offers a mutually beneficial solution that can enhance land use while promoting renewable energy generation. This approach avoids encroaching on productive land and leverages the existing mining infrastructure.

How can centralized PV generation improve energy structures in mines?

These attributes make them an effective complement to large power grids and a substitute for 'greenfield' energy projects. Viewing such deployments as a specialized form of centralized PV generation can contribute to the optimization of energy structures in mines.

Are large-scale PV systems a good investment?

Within this context, the installation of large-scale PV systems may appeal to institutional investors and energy companies, potentially mitigating the environmental footprint associated with both mining activities and renewable energy development on post-mining lands.

How much power can a PV system generate in 2023?

We estimate that the theoretical power generation capacity of PV systems installed across all mine sites globally (45,707.28 km²) could reach 5,807,713 GWh year⁻¹, approximately 3.5 times the global PV electricity output in 2023 (1,641,577 GWh) (Figure 1B).
