

Solar energy storage on the factory roof

Overview

Can a solar PV system be installed on a factory roof?

As factories are energy-intensive buildings, installing a solar PV system on the roof of a factory ensures free power can be generated to run everything underneath it. While reducing energy costs, a solar PV installation has the added benefit of demonstrating Corporate Social Responsibility thanks to its environmental credentials.

What is an industrial rooftop solar system?

An industrial rooftop solar system is specifically designed to meet the high energy demands of factories, warehouses, and large-scale production units. Unlike residential systems, rooftop solar for manufacturing units involves higher capacity, more complex wiring, and specialized components to support industrial-grade equipment.

Can a factory use rooftop solar?

A standard solar system for factories can range from 100 kW to several megawatts, depending on the site's connected load and power usage patterns. Key areas where rooftop solar for manufacturing units prove effective include running energy-intensive machines like chillers, air compressors, furnaces, extrusion lines, and injection molding systems.

What are the benefits of solar PV on warehouse roofs?

As energy efficiency rises to the top of the agenda for warehouse and logistics firms, more and more are seeing the benefits of solar PV. Installing solar PV on warehouse roofs means generating free electricity for the warehouse and adjacent buildings, such as offices.
