Overview

What is TP-Link outdoor wireless base station?

TP-LINK's 2.4GHz 300Mbps Outdoor Wireless Base Station is specifically designed to provide an effective solution for outdoor wireless networking applications. With its centralized management platform and high degree of flexibility, it is the ideal choice for providing point-to-point, point-to-multipoint, and outdoor Wi-Fi coverage.

What is a wireless base station?

With the help of the system, a wireless base station is an example of an access point that acts between a wireless node and with other wired PCs and peripherals. A device that is placed between network segments (or "subnets") to ensure that traffic is properly routed between different subnets.

What is a base station?

Base stations are one of the widely used components in the field of wireless communication and networks. It is an access point or base point of a particular area for network accessibility. In this article, we will discuss the different types of base stations with their advantages and applications in the real world.

What are the different types of base stations?

Some basic types of base stations are as follows: Macro-base stations are tall towers ranging from 50 to 200 feet in height, placed at strategic locations to provide maximum coverage in a given area. Those are equipped with large towers and antennas that transmit and receive radio signals from wireless devices.
